

XM radio's weather service is very beneficial to those on the road. It is difficult to locate a station in a given area...and it doesn't provide the forecast for a proposed destination. To have weather information withdrawn from XM service would be a disservice to XM's offerings. Not having to search radio channels is wonderful. Knowing where to go to find weather in the nation while on the road is a comfort to the person behind the wheel.